DETAILED ACTION

On July 31, 2007, an Office Action was sent to the Applicant rejecting claims 1, 3-18, 22-26, and 28-30. On December 31, 2007, the Applicant responded with arguments.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 3-18, 22-26, and 28-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Risafi (6,473,500), as set forth in the previous Office Action.

With regard to the amended claims, Rusafi discloses "in response to receive the value, determining an exchange rate for the value with the processor of the exchange provide" (the terminal reads the encoded data and determines the value--col.4, lines 1-10).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed December 31, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The Applicant argues that Risafi does not disclose "the exchange provider is different from the first value provider and different from the second value provider"; "in response to receive the value, determining an exchange rate for the value with the processor of the exchange provide"; or "converting the received value with the processor of the exchange provider to the converted form in accordance with the determined exchange rate". In response, Risafi discloses "the exchange provider is different from the first value provider and different from the second value provider" (the system includes a card user, a card issuer, an agent sells or distributes the card, a terminal, and a prepaid card processing center--col.3, lines 55-60); "in response to receive the value, determining an exchange rate for the value with the processor of the exchange provide" (the terminal reads the encoded data and determines the value--col.4, lines 1-10); and "converting the received value with the processor of the exchange provider to the converted form in accordance with the determined exchange rate" (the cash value or other value is determined and utilized accordingly, whether a gift value, transferring money between at least two cardholders, etc..col.5, lines 1-18). Therefore, the Examiner is interpreting Risafi as reading onto the invention substantially as claimed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
